To Whom It May Concern:

The Hillcrest and North American Motels have been host to more than 160 movies, commercials and television series shoots over the past 17 years. We would like to thank the industry in its entirety for its wonderful people and to the support industries like the OMDC and Absolute.

We announce with mixed feelings that our motels will be sold and closing their doors in mid-January 2008. To all the location scouts, set buyers and decorators; we would like to give back to the film industry in Toronto. We would like to offer many items that have been previously rented by the film industry, for sale at very reasonable prices.

Items such as lamps, bed spreads, curtains, furniture, televisions, art work, luggage racks, colored phones etc. all from the 1950s to modern items. Many set buyers may already know me and I welcome you to keep these items in the film industry before the motels are gone. Please contact me to make viewing arrangements. Items will be available immediately.

Any locations people that would like to contact me to say hello or good bye would be much appreciated. We have made many friends in the film industry, our best wishes to everyone involved.

We will of course be hosting filming of all kinds until our last day of operation (January 22, 2008). Going out with a big action scene would be fun and we are always open to ideas.

Our intentions are to stay in the hospitality industry but we do not know what the future holds. When we open a new location we will again contact you and continue our support of the film industry of Toronto.

Many thanks for everyone's support, and hope to see you soon.

Sincerely,

David Gadzala
