

GOT WHMIS?

Get your Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System training now

At DGC Ontario, health and safety of our members and their workplace is a primary concern. As such, we understand the value of WHMIS training. Our membership – like everyone working in the film and television industry – has the potential to be dealing with hazardous materials on a daily basis. Having a workforce that is properly educated and trained in the safe storage, handling, use and disposal of controlled products in the workplace is of utmost importance to us and to the industry at large. It benefits everyone in the long run.

Our goal is to ensure that all our DGC Ontario members and members of the Guild Apprentice Programs have this invaluable training. We are committed to making this step as easy as possible and are making the following offer to you:

If you are a DGC Ontario member, or a member of one of the DGC's Apprentice Programs, you can get your on-line WHMIS training FOR FREE.

Take the on-line WHMIS course before December 31, 2005, and you will be fully reimbursed for your costs.

WHMIS (Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System) is a required element of the Guild Apprentice Programs ... and a definite bonus to any DGC Ontario member.

Take the Virtual WHMIS course through the IATSE 667 website (<http://iatse.virtualwhmis.com/>), submit your receipt to the DGC Ontario office and we will reimburse you for the full cost of the course.

Don't delay. This is a limited time offer.

Questions or concerns?

Contact Laurie Januska, Member and Training Liaison at ljanuska@dgcodc.ca or at (416) 925-8200.